

Extra things to think about:

Working together could be the best way to meet the challenge of new threats and issues; both now and in the future.

1

There would be only one chief constable, one police and crime commissioner, one police and crime plan and one mission (way of working) therefore saving money.

Each county would have its own headquarters providing higher visibility and accountability.

A quarter of the staff for Devon and Cornwall Police and Dorset Police already work together.

Accountability = being held responsible for your plans and actions; doing what you said you would

Alliance = working together in a close way

Merger = joining two things together to become one

Visibility = how easily something is seen
